

Aquatic Play Feature™ Handbook Now Available

This handbook focuses on risk reduction to the users, the employees, and the facility itself. It describes the different types of play features, discusses the unique considerations to operate them, proper maintenance of water quality and management and operations. Critical topics include: How to deal with cloudy water, excessively high make-up water bills, high sanitizer/oxidizer consumption, very short filter runs, maintaining automated control systems, management of water and water chemistry, chlorine and chemical addition issues, filtration and circulations concerns, and play feature operational considerations. Purchase price is $19.95 per book.

Hot Water & Healthy Living™ Book

This new book translates science into language for the general consumer to help understand how hot water immersion can assist in creating healthier bodies, hearts, minds, and lifestyles. The book is authored by Dr. JH. B. Smith of Indiana University of Pennsylvania and is based on interviews with leading scientists and information from over 25 scholarly research publications.

It begins with the Potential for Warm Water Innersion to introduce the general concept of how immersion benefits health. Chapter two through five discuss Hot Water & Healing, Hot Water & Heart Health, Hot water & Relaxation, Hot Water & Mental Health, and Hot water & Living.

This 36- Page, four-color book is available for $10.95 per book (including shipping). NSPF is committed to reinvesting a percentage of revenue form this book to fund additional health benefit research.

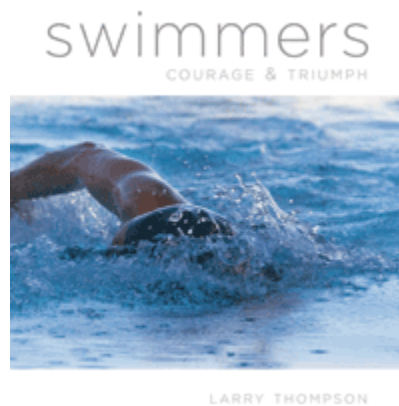

The most important recreational water manual of the past 10 years is now available in three languages:

Swimmers: Courage and Triumph* by Larry Thompson

This is a moving collection of 19 stories, some famous, some relatively unknown, who have distinguished themselves in swimming - from winning seven gold medals in Olympics Games, to overcoming physical disabilities. The book has captivating images that bring their stories to life.

This book profiles many Olympic swimmers including Mark Spitz, Jenny Thompson, and Natalie Coughlin. Open water swimmers Lynne Cox and Marcy MacDonald, Masters swimmer Rich Abrahams, and disabled swimmers Jeff Keith and Melanie Benn. Renowned sports writers Phil Whitten, John Lohn, Bill Volckening, Kari Lyndersen, and Jeremy Shweder have contributed courage and triumph written profiles. The book is photographed and edited by Larry Thompson.
